

The Croyde Baby Change Station has clinical application with a homely appearance making it ideal for Birth Centres and Midwife-Led Units.

The unit is available in a range of wooden finishes to match the design of the space. This less clinical feel creates a softer environment.

The changing unit features a smooth table top surface with a curved upstand to create a secure environment for the infant.

ACCESSIBILITY & EASE OF USE

It's easy for mothers and midwives to move around. They have unrestricted access to all four sides and can carry out baby assessments and checks even in tight spaces.

DEEP DRAWERS

The unit's deep and sturdy drawers provide safe storage. The drawers can be locked for security ensuring that standardised equipment is accessible but not visible.

The drawers provide enough space for you to store essential items. For example, you can store basic neonatal resus equipment to replicate the homebirth setup.

The soft close design also helps to avoid disturbing the baby.
